22nd Annual Regatta

Mattapoisett Yacht Club held its 22nd annual Regatta Saturday, July 29th, with three Handicap Classes racing in the morning and six one-design divisions competing in the afternoon. The gala affair in which neighboring yacht clubs participated numbered 51 contestants.

The complete list of first place winners include: David Colling, Robert Heidenreich, Sue McGowan, Ed Scheu, Billy Mee, C. S. Gleason, Thomas Crowley, Joan Darrah and Dave Crowley.

The weather was far from ideal, running the gamut from partly cloudy skies to threatened squalls and heavy rain. The unstable wind shifted from NE to SE, varying from under ten miles to 15-20 miles.

In the three Handicap divisions, 13 craft answered the starting gun at 11 A.M. - 3 in Cruising Class A (over 28' LOA), 3 in Cruising Class B (25'-28' LOA) and 7 in Cruising Class C (under 25' LOA).

Resolute, skippered by David Collins, won the Cruising Class A race and with it the coveted J. Lewis Stackpole Trophy, followed 00:13:24 (corrected time) later by Ed Ruel's Tiara. Heather, with Robert Heidenriech at the helm, was awarded Cruising Class B honors and the Charles Whalen Memorial Trophy, posting a (corrected time) 0:29:24 margin over Fred Klein's Apotheosis.

Susan McGowan in Gryphon headed the Cruising Class C skippers by a narrow margin of 06:37. B. Flaherty was second.

The one-design boats (Shields, Corinthians, Bullseyes, Herreshoff 12's and Beetle Cats), scheduled to start at 1:40 P.M., were delayed 20 minutes for lack of wind. Then, as the wind veered to E, but still with light breezes, the Shields, Corinthians, Bullseyes and Herreshoff 12's got under way, at 5-minute intervals. Later when the Senior Beetle Cats were lining up, the skies became so ominously dark that they were sent in to anchor. After an hour's delay, racing resumed, first for the division of eight Senior Beetle Cats and lastly for the nine Junior Beetle Cats. By then heavy rain had set in and the SE wind had picked up to 15-20 miles.

Evening Series, held Wednesday, July 26th, turned out to be a contest plagued by very light SW winds, less than 5 miles.

Top honors went to Billy Mee and Susan McGowan.

Billy Mee, skippering the Corinthian Irish Eyes, out front at the start, soon built up a substantial lead over Don Murray's Galway. Desautel's We Seven was third.

The seven Beetle Cats followed the Corinthian course shortened to a triangular run to Shining Tides MYC guide buoy, to Barnard's Wharf MYC guide buoy, and finish at Ned's Point. David Jenney's Ariel earned the start, but lost out on the last leg to Susan McGowan's Hep Cat by 32 seconds. Harvey Pentleton's Swamp Fox placed third.

Billy Mee in Irish Eyes led the fleet of seven Corinthians, besting George Fisher's Cloud Nine by 11:39. C. S. Gleason's Neries in the Bullseye division edged R. Thompson's Vite to win by a close margin of three seconds. The Herreshoff 12's title went to Thomas Crowley's Einhhao with Rockwood Foster's Marguerite' 28 seconds astern.

The Beetle Cats with the largest number of entrants sailed in two divisions - 8 Seniors and 9 Juniors. Joan Darrah in Duke and Dave Crowley in Nuisance captured first; Harvey Pentleton's Swamp Fox and Jimmy Broadwater's Agamemnon second.

Mr. Charles N. Decas, doing business as the Upper Cape Cablevision Company, 17 Chapel Street, Wareham, has made application to Mattapoisett Selectmen to operate a cable TV system in the town of Mattapoisett. The application states that a $12. installation charge is projected with a $5.50 per month service fee and a $1.00 per additional outlet charge. In addition to regular programming the system would carry local meetings and local sports events.

The Board of Selectmen requested that Town Counsel Leonard Perry investigate the legal requirements of the matter and render an opinion. Mr. Perry has gone over the application and has submitted a written opinion which has been forwarded to the applicant. According to Mr. Perry's findings, the Upper Cape Cablevision application does not agree

ROYAL WILD WEST CIRCUS

The world-toured Western Star, "Hoot" Hilton, and his wonder horse "Hi Chaparell", will appear in Mattapoisett with the Royal Wild West Circus, presenting an outstanding exhibition of equine intelligence--or should we say "horsesense"? To prove the point, Hi Chaparall has been known to stop the act and pose for a photographer who approached the circus ring.

The Royal Circus will be here for one day only, Saturday, August 12th, at Mahoney's Field, Route 6, with performances at 4 and 8 P.M.

St. Anthony's Church is bringing this unusual entertainment to town to help raise funds for its building fund. They receive the highest profit from reduced-rate advance tickets, now on sale.

Questions and Answers About Permanent Press

NEW YORK (ED) — Is there any way to set permanent pleats at home?

No. Permanent pleats are achieved by using a special heat-setting method on fabrics of resin-treated cotton, polyester/cotton or polyester/rayon blends. The machinery and conditions needed for this operation cannot be duplicated in the home. Some professional drycleaners can set pleats in some fabrics, such as polyester knits, providing the fabric has not been treated with a permanent press finish. However, this is an expensive process.

What can be done about the odor that sometimes accompanies permanent press items? The resin finish that is used to make a fabric crease resistant or permanent press can sometimes leave an odor on the finished garment. To avoid this situation, the best thing to do with all new permanent press garments is to launder or dryclean them (consult the label for proper care) before using.

How can stains be removed from permanent press fabrics? Oily stains are difficult to remove from permanent press fabrics because the polyester in the fabric holds on to greasy substances and does not absorb water, which would facilitate stain removal.

If treating these stains with a detergent and water paste does not succeed, some products on the market that will help to alleviate this problem are Boraxo Waterless Handcleaner, Faultless PDQ, and Texize Spray 'n Wash. Use them directly on the stains, following package directions. Then launder as usual, using the permanent press cycle (lukewarm water wash, cold rinse and short spin.) Tumble dry and remove the load from the machine as soon as the cycle is completed.

CADETS TO EXPERIMENT WITH SALMON

Cadets in the Oceanography Department at the Massachusetts Maritime Academy at Buzzards Bay will be playing nursemaid to 129 orphaned "babies" come September.

The "babies" are tiny fingerlings..baby salmon to be exact...from the Pacific northwest, and the Academy will be the first educational institution in New England to seek to determine if they can be developed in New England waters.

The fish farm at present is a floating cage suspended between the dock at Taylor's Point, Buzzards Bay, and the training ship "Bay State", where faculty members don wet suits to feed and study the tiny salmon.

Lt. David P. Charnews of Falmouth, assistant professor in oceanography, in charge of the project, says the fish were only two inches long and weighed a half-ounce, when the Academy got them last month, and that they will soon need a second tank as they grow larger.

Announcing the project, Cmdr. Myles A. Walsh, the 3rd, of Falmouth, head of the Department of Marine Engineering Sciences, said, "We are trying to determine if Pacific coast salmon can be subjected to entirely different environments and grown successfully in our local waters."

Walsh said, "This will be one of the early projects in the oceanography department. We will determine if varying diets, water temperature and other conditions will be a hindrance.

"If we are able to eliminate the problems in growing salmon in our pilot-scale system, we believe we will have provided the basic information for commercial development," he said.

The experimental fish began as eggs shipped from the Puget Sound area to the Massachusetts Department of Natural Resources. Some have been released in the North River at Duxbury and the balance were provided to the Academy for the new project.

Charnews said the salmon when full grown will be about ten inches long and weigh three-quarters of a pound. If the fish grow properly they should arrive at their maximum size late this year.

As adults they will be more ready to sustain the rigors of Cape Cod water temperatures of 35-40 degrees in mid-winter. Those in charge of the project believe the full-grown salmon will survive the colder water, although cold water could slow the growth process. Cape summer waters of 58-60 degrees are acceptable for the baby salmon.

Charnews, who has done research in raising fish in cages with pellet food, constructed the 64-cubic foot mesh tank of wooden frame and galvanized wire.

Charnews said he counted the fish, a total of 131, when he introduced them to their new home. Since that time he has studied their growth rate and looked for Walsh has other oceanography projects in the planning states. They include surveying and exploring wrecks along the Cape Cod shores, establishment of a wet laboratory with circulating sea water for specimens and others.

GIRLS' SOFTBALL

The Mattapoisett Girls' Softball team has played two games to date, losing its first game to the fine playing Eaglettes of New Bedford, and the second game to Poyant Shoes of the New Bedford Businessmen's League by scores of 30-5 and a heartbreaking 15-11 game respectively.

The girls' batting percentage has been high but costly errors have made the difference.

Homeruns have been hit by Kim Dennis and Lynne Goodwin, and a fine double play was made by Kim Dennis to Joy Reilly.

The next game will be Thursday night at Center School against the "Old Ladies" at 6:30. Any mother or older girl who wishes to play, please report to the school at 6:00 P.M

The "Rookies", starting at 10 years of age, will play Wednesday night, August 2nd, at the Sippican School field at 6:30.

Come out and support the girls' teams!

Members of the girls' team are: Diane Meehan, Heather Shepley, Pauline Lemieux, Joy Reilly, Carol Gingras, Kathy Sheets, Betty Bauer, Kim Dennis, Katie Bauer, Lynne Goodwin, Polly Perkins, Jean Sheets, Liz Glennon, Kathy Cardoza, Susan Lake, Betsy Horrocks, Sherry Haskell, Gail Haskell, Christine Cooper and Diane Lemieux.

The individual race results were as follows: First Race, Jim Broadwater, MYC, first; Billy Richmond, SYC, second; Tom Woodhouse, SYC, third; Kevin O'Leary, MYC, fourth; Aimes Colt, SYC, fifth; Arthur Blackburn, MYC, sixth; John Pentagast, SYC, seventh; Valerie Putman, MYC, breakdown. Second Race, John Pentagast, SYC, first; Laurie Jenney, MYC, second; Tom Woodhouse, SYC, third; Carol McCarthy, MYC, fourth; Aimes Colt, SYC, fifth; Billy Richmond, SYC, sixth; and Heather Briggs, MYC, seventh.

JUNIOR YACHT CLUB REGATTA

July 28th was a red letter day on the Junior Yacht Club calendar - an important first! For the first time a Junior Regatta was held and a most successful affair it was too. Beetle Cats, Widgeons and Board Boats were entered with a special division for Mitey Mites.

David Crowley, Louie Kenyon, Jimmy Broadwater and Brad Cutler were the victors.

The Junior Beetle Cat race with nine starters proved to be a lively one, as David Crowley in Nuisance defeated Meredith Barnes' Gay Lee Ann II and Laurie Jenney in Ariel trailed by only 49 seconds.

The Widgeons, waging an exciting three-way contest, ended with only seconds separating them. It was Louie Kenyon's Intrepid first, Tim Sylvia's Columbia second, and Mary Jane Hebert's Enterprise third.

Not to be outdone, the Mitey Mites sailed exceptionally well also. The three top contenders were just a minute apart. Jimmy Broadwater in Agamemnon crossed the line first, ahead of Bruce Sammis' Sheba and then came Billy Cornish's Barby Jo II.

Of the three board boats entered, only Brad Cutler's Sunfish finished - time 1:03:30.

VISIT FROM AN EAGLE

The eagle in the photo is either very smart or very lucky. On Friday afternoon, the big bird landed in the backyard of perhaps the only people in town with the compassion, the knowledge and the equipment to help him out.

David Duff and Michael McQuade came to Selectman John Field's house with the news that they had seen a hurt eagle in the back field. Mrs. Field, understandably incredulous, told the boys that they must be mistaken because eagles did not make their home in this vicinity. Nevertheless she and the boys loaded a big cage in the station wagon and went to the aid of the bird. Guess what it turned out to be. The big bird was so weak that he could hardly stand, let alone fly. Installed in the largest cage on the Field farm, he was handfed raw hamburg. By Saturday noon he had put away almost a pound of meat and was looking much better. The Fields have transferred him to a bird farm where he can receive the care that it will take to revive him.

One can only speculate on how the eagle got here or where he started from, but, according to Billy Field, the Elizabeth Islands have golden eagles and it's possible that the thunderstorm of this week swept this eagle off course, battered him, weakened him and landed him on Mattapoisett Neck. The huge bird, although weak, still glared fiercely at well wishers and tried to rake the hand that was feeding him hamburg with his great hooked talons. Man and the national bird have seldom met on such amiable terms and his wild spirit

A BACKWARD GLANCE

A salute is offered to a man and soldier who recently departed the Mattapoisett scene, leaving it less colorful and interesting than before. It comes from one of the many who stood up and were counted when Joe Furtado joined ranks with The Next World, June 27, 1972.

In the American Legion uniform he wore so proudly at The End was not, however, how most of us remembered Joe. More familiar, the straw hat and garden clothes that related him to his unbelievable barn on Oakland Street, a barn which seemed to have fallen right out of a Lewis Carroll cloud. That it is there still, unchanged, shocks the beholder, for Joe is not there to take off that incredible hat and return it to its rightful position at just the right point of a tale he is telling.

For Joe knew his stage effects just as he knew his vegetables. And another prize winning blue ribbon of the kind he and his Ada carried off over the seasons, when the Grange was giving prizes could well be awarded Joe for the originality of his art collection and manner of display. With a mammoth fish skull above the door at the

No one buying vegetables off Joe failed of knowing his remark "Got to give this to the Missus" so good that the Missus is with us still, and very pretty she looked on the back porch this afternoon, unaware that I inquired the exact date of Joe's death for a purpose.

The recording of Joe Furtado's civic activities, of which there were many, I am sure, and words of appreciation from his Grange associates where he held high office and took honors, are for others to offer.

Individualists are not easy to come by in our time.

Mattapoisett has lost one. On our stage there was no "stand in" for Joseph Furtado, by reason of which he will always be remembered, also, the Book of Good Deeds bears his name.

There is no need to stuff your trash cans full of paper or to make unpleasant trips to the dump. A waste paper collection van is stationed in the center of the village the first weekend of every month. The location is the Barstow Street parking lot of the Mattapoisett Congregational Church, which is opposite the Center School. All

NEW RECTOR

The charming, little, white-spired church, St. Philip's (Episcopal), located on the Mattapoisett waterfront, will welcome a new Rector for the month of August, next Sunday, August 6th.

The Rev. Jonathan LeRoy King of St. Agnes Church, East Orange, New Jersey, will be heard for the first time in Mattapoisett, when he delivers the sermon at the 10 o'clock service. But the earlier worshippers at the 8 o'clock observance of Holy Communion will have received the sacrament at his hand. Since the 6th is the first Sunday of the month, worshippers at 10 o'clock also may receive Holy Communion after the regular service of morning prayer and sermon.

The year-round residence of the King family is reported to be Convent, New Jersey. Here, they will occupy the summer Rectory

An interested community anticipates the pleasure of getting to know the Jonathan LeRoy King family, and hopes its beaches, gardens and summer pleasures will be found congenial to their tastes.
